The Question(s) – These questions form the basis for the task. Everyone is expected to do the main task. The enabling prompt is a small extra task that will help you to understand the main task better. The extending prompt is a small extra task to get you thinking more deeply about the main task.

Enabling Prompt (if given)	The Main Task	Extending Prompt (if given)

Estimates – Estimation is a good way to start many problems. In forming your estimates make sure they are strong by providing a narrow band of possible answers.

An answer which is too low	An answer which is too high	My estimate

Information – Look at the question(s) that you have been provided with. Think about the information and put it into one of the provided sections below.

Information that is useful	Information that is not useful	Extra information that I need
